YO TOURS · AUDIO GUIDE

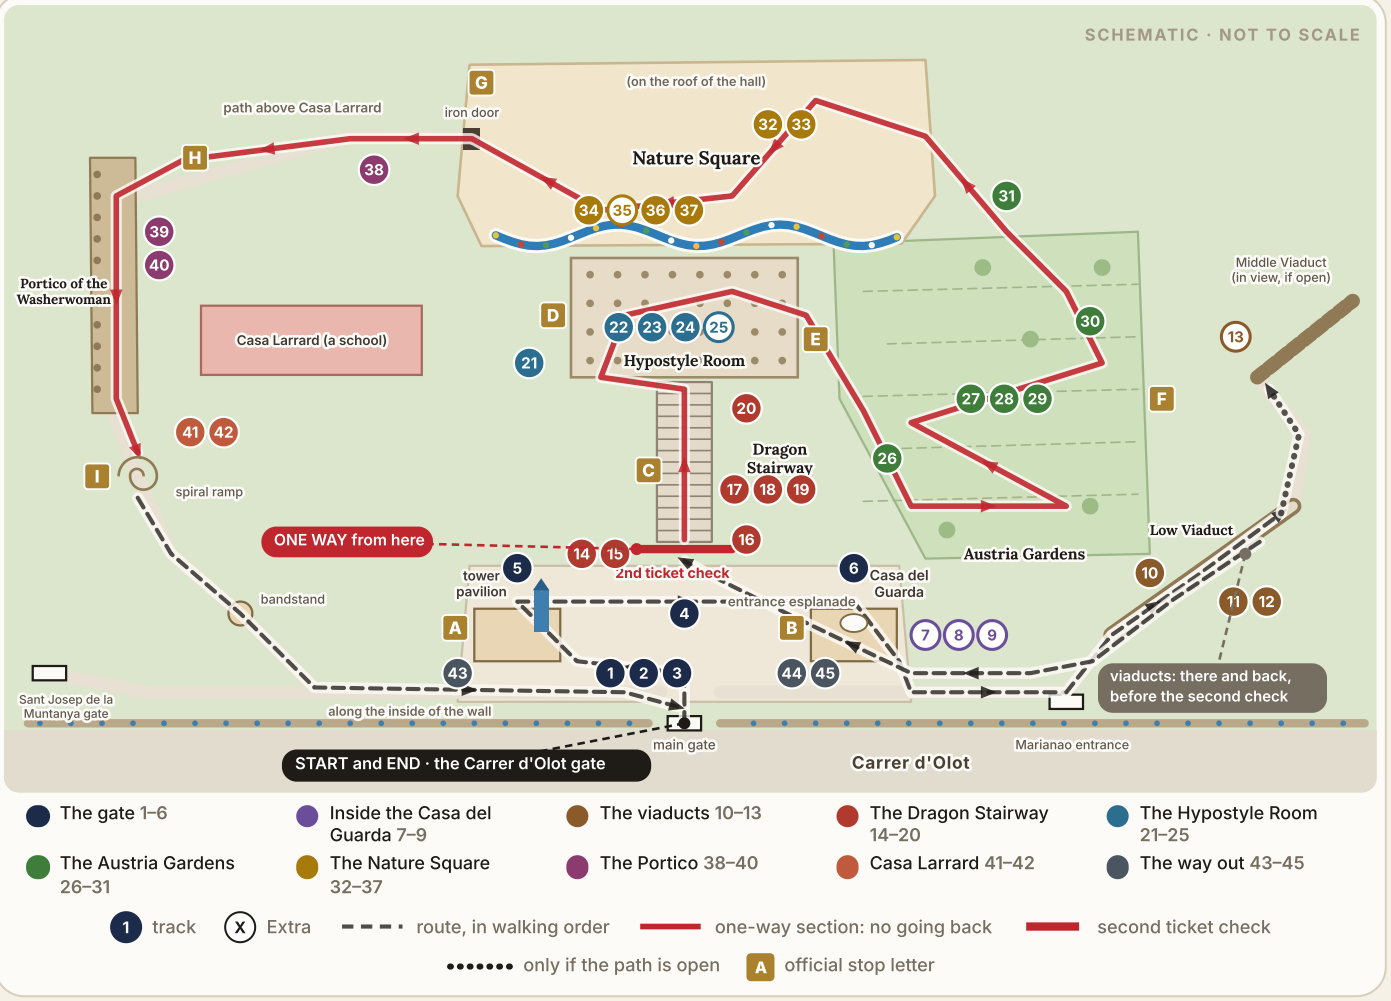

Park Güell

The estate that became a park: 39 main stops plus 6 short Extras in one loop, in the park's own A–I order, in three lengths.

1 Outside first, then one way. The gate, the Casa del Guarda and the viaducts come first. From the second ticket check at the foot of the stairway the route is one way, A to I, and ends back at the Carrer d'Olot gate.

2 Each circle is the track to play there; hollow ones are short Extras. Every track ends by telling you where to go next. Pages 2–4 say where to stand for every track.

3 Any gate works: play the first track just inside it. Headphones only: the park does not allow speakers. Once you leave the park you can't come back in.

the gate, the dragon, the hall and its ceiling, the bench, the view, the Portico

Steep paths and steps on the way to the viaducts, on the Dragon Stairway, in the gardens and down the ramp. Times include walking and a short wait at the second ticket check. Shorter versions: the numbers jump, and a spoken line tells you the next stop.

The gate, the Casa del Guarda and the viaducts · 1–13

Everything here is outside the one-way section, so it comes first: past the second ticket check there is no way back. Left and right are as you stand on the esplanade facing the stairway.

this page, on the whole loop

The gate 1–6 · official A, B

Inside the Carrer d'Olot gate: the entrance esplanade between the two gatehouses. Coming in by another gate? Play the first track just inside it: it tells you how to reach the start.

1 Welcome to Park Güell Essential Highlights
Anywhere just inside your gate (heard before you reach the start)
Play it anywhere just inside the gate you came in by, out of the way of the ticket check; it needs no view. The loop then starts on the entrance esplanade inside the Carrer d'Olot gate, between the two gatehouses.

2 Park with a k Essential Highlights
The entrance esplanade · inside the Carrer d'Olot gate, facing the wall and its medallions
On the entrance esplanade just inside the main gate on Carrer d'Olot, between the two gatehouses, facing the iron gates and the stone wall with its tiled top and name medallions.

3 A glove shop window
The Carrer d'Olot gate · just inside, to one side of the palm-leaf iron gates
Just inside the main gate on Carrer d'Olot, standing to one side of the palm-leaf iron gates, out of the way of people leaving.

4 Factory seconds Essential Highlights
The entrance esplanade · between the two pavilions, both roofs in view
On the entrance esplanade between the two gatehouses, where both roofs can be seen: the tall tower with its cross on the left as you face the stairway, the mushroom on the right.

5 Telephones and a tower
The tower pavilion · outside, its tower and door in view
Outside the gatehouse with the tall tower, on the left as you face the stairway, with the tower and its door in view, clear of the doorway and of people passing.

6 A modest dwelling Essential
Casa del Guarda · outside its door, the mushroom roof in view
Outside the door of the Casa del Guarda, the gatehouse on the right as you face the stairway, with the cap on its roof in view; stand clear of the doorway and of any queue.

Inside the Casa del Guarda 7–9 · official B, inside

Three short Extras, one per floor, if you can go inside the Casa del Guarda.

7 The caretaker's rooms Extra

YO TOURS · PARK GÜELL · ON SITE

Before you start

A few things to know on the ground. No prices, hours or tickets here: check them with the park before your visit.

Headphones only

The park does not allow speakers. Keep the volume low enough to hear what is around you.

No re-entry

Once you leave the park you cannot come back in. That is why the gate, the Casa del Guarda and the viaducts come first, and why the loop ends at the Carrer d'Olot gate.

One-way section

From the second ticket check at the foot of the Dragon Stairway the route is one way: the stairway, the hall, the Austria Gardens, the Nature Square, the Portico and the ramp. There is no going back, so hear the view from the bench before you leave the square.

Steep paths and steps

Steps and ramps up to the viaducts, the stairway itself, the garden terraces and the spiral ramp down. Watch your step, above all on the way down.

Any gate

Coming in by another gate? Play the first track just inside it, out of the way of the ticket check: it tells you how to reach the start on the entrance esplanade.

Only if it is open

The Casa del Guarda's three floors (Extras), the Middle Viaduct (Extra, only if the path is open; never go past a works closure) and the Font Sarva room (Extra) are for when you can reach them.

Outside only

Casa Larrard is a school, Casa Trias a private home, and the pink house with the pointed tower a museum: the guide looks at them from the path.

Out of the way

Many tracks are played on busy paths: step to one side, keep clear of doorways, queues and people sitting on the bench, and let the one-way flow pass.

The official stops, A to I

These are the letters of the park's own recommended-routes drawing; this guide follows them in the same order. The viaducts are not on the official drawing.

A	Entrance and concierge	the tower pavilion, left of the gate
B	The guardhouse	the Casa del Guarda, right of the gate
C	Monumental staircase	the Dragon Stairway
D	The hypostyle room, outdoor	the hall's front
E	The hypostyle room, inside	among the columns
F	The Austria Gardens	the terraced gardens
G	Nature square	the square and the bench
H	The roadways, paths and viaducts	drawn on the Portico path
I	Ramp and house Larrard	the spiral ramp, Casa Larrard

This plan is our own schematic drawing, not to scale, made from the park's recommended-routes drawing and the guide's own directions. Where the ground differs, follow the park's signs and staff.
