FLORENCE · OLTRARNO · ENGLISH · OCTOBER 2026

TOUR NO. 43

61 tracks

about 142 min of audio

How to use this guide

- 1. Download before you go. The tracks are ordinary MP3 files: they play offline, with no app and no signal needed. Bring earphones.
- 2. Play the tracks in number order. The numbers follow the museum's own one-way route, and match the file names.
- 3. Start each track where this sheet says to stand. In the Palatine Gallery, the room number and the room's Italian name are the ones on the signs above the doors, e.g. Room 24 · Sala di Saturno.
- 4. Every track ends by telling you where to go next. Pause, walk, then play the next number when you arrive.
- 5. Skip freely. If a painting is away on loan or a room is closed, move on to the next number. Paintings are sometimes moved: an attendant can tell you where a work is today. Red numbers mark the highlights if you are short of time.

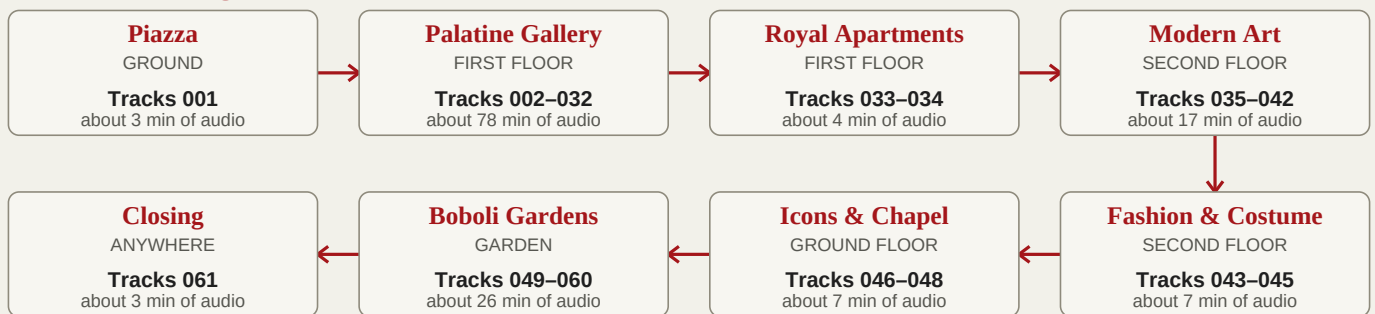

Notices for October 2026

Iliad Room (Room 23) closed until 25 October 2026. At the Sala della Stufa (track 009), staff send visitors back toward the Room of Jupiter. Then play 021–023 in Jupiter, 014–020 in Saturn, and carry on from 024. Skip 010–013.

Royal Apartments. Guided visits only, at set times, for small groups. If your slot comes before the Palatine Gallery, play 033–034 around it and pick up the Palatine where you left off.

Boboli Gardens. Parts of the garden are fenced off during the Boboli 2030 restoration, including the Amphitheatre tiers, the Neptune basin, the Abundance statue, the inner Isolotto and the Limonaia gates. Everything on the route can still be seen from the paths, and the tracks tell you where.

The route at a glance

The Boboli Gardens can also be done first, straight from the back of the courtyard. Allow at least half a day for everything; the audio alone runs about 2 hours 20 minutes.
